Negotiators complete 1991 budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Just hours shy of a midnight deadline, President Bush and congressional budget negotiators agreed Sunday to increase gas and alcohol taxes and slash government spending to cut the nation's deficit by $500 billion over five years.

At a Rose Garden ceremony, Bush, flanked by the bipartisan group of negotiators from Congress and the administration, said the new budget would slice $40 billion in the new fiscal year, beginning

Monday, and would avert the painful shutdowns that would have ensued under the balanced budget law.

"The bipartisan group of leaders and I have reached agreement on the federal budget," Bush announced. "It is balanced; it is fair, and in my view, it is what the United States of America needs at this point in its history."

The pact, spelled out in detail later by administration negotiators, would save $119 billion in entitlement and mandatory spending programs, including the politically sensitive Medicare program, and raise $134 billion in new tax revenues, mostly from a phased-in 10 cent-a-gallon increase in the tax on gasoline.

The agreement, which now must be ratified by the House and Senate, also includes $182 billion in cuts in government spending, with defense spending accounting for the single largest bite, $67 billion, in the first three years.

White House budget director Richard Darman, briefing reporters later, said that Medicare would account for the single largest cut in discretionary spending, a total of $60 billion coming from as-yet unspecified increases in deductibles for beneficiaries and an increase in premium levels.

At the same time, Darman noted that some $2 billion had been set aside to pay the premiums for elderly people living at about the poverty level.

Otherwise, agricultural programs were slated for $13 billion in cuts; repeal of the civil service retirement fund would account for $8.1 billion; the Postal Service would cut $4.2 billion; and implementing reforms in the student loans programs would save $2 billion, and delaying employment payments an additional $4.6 billion, Darman said.

Hussein considers French peace plan

United Press International

Iraqi President Saddam Hussein said Sunday he was willing to consider a French-sponsored peace plan calling for the complete withdrawal of Iraqi troops from Kuwait, while U.S. officials warned Americans they may become the targets of terrorist attacks by pro-Iraqi forces.

In what may have been a retreat from his former hard-line position, or a tactical ploy to buy more time, Saddam called for the opening of a dialogue to replace "threats and massive armies."

He said in a statement he wants to meet immediately with French officials to discuss the plan, which calls for the withdrawal of Iraq from Kuwait, free elections in the emirate, arms reduction throughout the region and a solution to the Palestinian problem.

Prior to the speech, the State Department warned Americans abroad that they may become the targets of terrorist attacks by pro-Iraqi elements.

In a statement read by Voice of America radio, Washington advised U.S. citizens overseas to be cautious, particularly when they are near U.S.-owned buildings or businesses and U.S. military installations.

"The statement said there were growing indications that terrorist attacks are likely to take place in the near future under the sponsorship of Iraq in Europe and the Middle East," VOA reported.

Meanwhile, a London newspaper reported Sunday that an unidentified senior British army

Abortion pill favored among women surveyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An abortion pill developed in France was "well-liked" and produced virtually no excessive side effects in women taking part in a small U.S. study, a researcher reported Sunday.

The results of tests on 16

American women at the University of Southern California Medical School in Los Angeles were consistent with larger studies conducted in France and elsewhere on the drug, known as RU 486.

"These results, from yet another continent, clearly support the existing evidence that RU 486 is safe, effective and well-liked," said Dr. David Grimes, the only U.S. researcher to test the drug.

RU 486 has been shown to be safe and highly effective for aborting early pregnancies and has been made available in France and China and is expected to become available in Britain in 1991.

The drug has not been made available to American women or U.S. researchers outside Grime's team, and is not expected to be available anytime soon, due in part to opposition from anti-abortionists.

The drug, also known as Mifepristone and Mifegyne, works by blocking a hormone known as progesterone, which is needed to maintain a fertilized egg in the World leaders discuss problems of children

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The World Summit for Children, the largest gathering of presidents and prime ministers ever, began Saturday at the United Nations with a public plea for payment of a world debt and a series of private meetings.

"The world has a social debt it has to pay to the poorest," said the first head of state to address the meeting, Chile's President Patricio Aylwin Azocar, at a background briefing.

In the world, 40,000 children die every day from causes that could be avoided and prevented, Aylwin said. In Latin America and the Caribbean there are more than 100 million poor people, mostly children, he said.

Canada's Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, one of the initiators of the unprecedented summit, met with Japanese Prime Minister Toshiki Kaifu in a basement conference room at the U.N.

They were the first world leaders Saturday to hold private, bilateral discussions in the complex.

The summit, witnessed by fewer than 200 children, has strained the capability of the United Nations to handle the more than 70 leaders, including President Bush, Britain's Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and Czechoslovakia's President Vaclav Havel.

U.N. Secretary-General Javier

Perez de Cuellar, who greeted the arriving dignitaries, said nearly all the officials were "extremely concerned about the difficult situation" in the Persian Gulf.

However, they combined their concern with hopes for the success of the summit, which he described as a "tender occasion."

Nearly 150 motorcades took the dignitaries from their hotels to the Earth First! members cheer drop of Shawnee timber sales

By Todd Gardner

Wolf howls of approval by Earth First! members followed the announcement that the McCormick Hill and Lake Kinkaid timber sales would be dropped by the Shawnee National Forest.

Rod Sallee, Forest Supervisor for the Shawnee, made the announcement at the meeting of the Shawnee National Forest Citizens Advisory Council, held at Shawnee College in Ullin Friday.

Further howls followed Congressman Glenn Poshard's, D-Carverville, call for the Forest Service and Congress to assess the nation's need for timber. "On public land, stop below-cost timber sales and stop the export of raw logs."

"We're not a colony of Japan or Germany or anybody else," he said. "If our people can't process it and don't need it, let it stand."

Poshard also said his bill to create nine wilderness areas in the Shawnee will go before the House Monday or Tuesday.

Sallee said it was the level of public concern that led to the dropping of the two timber sales.

Jan Wilder-Thomas, Earth First! representative from Union County, said she thanked God that the two sales will not proceed, but said there was still a need for moratorium on all logging until a

ASU intercepts Saluki victory 20-17

By Paul Pabst
Staff Writer

The football Salukis last gasp for victory Saturday fell into the sticky fingers of Arkansas State defensive back Phillip Wells, who huffed and puffed down the sidelines. From there, ASU kicker Ryan Jose blew the Salukis' house down, to a tune of 20-17.

With just 55 seconds remaining and the score tied 17-17 the Salukis got the ball on their own 36-yard line. It looked like an instant replay of the Indiana State comeback victory, except one new character was added to the cast, Wells.

After driving to the ASU 41-yard line the Salukis faced a second-and-10. SIUC junior quarterback Brian Downey tossed the to freshman receiver Billy Swain on an out pattern. Wells sliced in and snatched the Salukis miracle and toted it all the way down the sidelines to the Salukis 20-yard line before being dragged down by Downey.

After the play, senior quarterback Fred Gibson was quickly at Downey's side.

"I told him not to hang his head," Gibson said. "You never know what could happen, a fumble or something. We still had a chance. I wanted him to stay up and ready in case we got that chance. I told him not to get down."

But the Indians didn't give the Salukis another chance. A pair of short runs killed the remaining time and set up Jose's 34-yard boot that split the uprights and gave ASU its own dream ending.

The interception killed the fourth quarterback comeback effort the Salukis were putting on for the 11,000-plus fans. After a sluggish first half, both offensively and defensively, the Salukis kicked into high gear in the fourth quarter.

The Dawgs opened the fourth quarter by capping a 74-yard drive with a scoring pass to Swain to make things more interesting at 17-10 in favor of ASU.

The fourth quarter brought Downey out of his three-quarter slump. While completing 25-53 passes for 334 yards, Downey was not his usual on-target self. He threw three interceptions in the first three quarters. He was hitting on the long play quite often, but was also overthrowing receivers and was being pressured heavily.

Downey began clicking at the end of the third period thanks to the help of sophomore receiver Justin Roebuck, who caught three of Downey's five completions on the touchdown drive.

Later in the fourth quarter the Saluki offense got another chance as the defense jarred the ball loose from ASU fullback Troy Mabone. Freshman defensive lineman Darnell Laurent recovered for his second fumble recovery in the past two games, giving the SIUC offense got another breath of life at the SIUC 38-yard line.

Freshman tailback Greg Brown spearheaded the scoring drive, carrying six times for 32 yards. He finished off the drive with a 1-yard blast over the middle of the Saluki offensive line to tie the game up 17-17. Brown finished the afternoon with 52 rushing yards, while sophomore Yonel Jourdain led the Salukis with 58 rushing yards.

The Indians got the ball back two more times, but big plays by Saluki defenders thwarted the ASU drives. Senior middle linebacker Kevin Kilgallon invaded the Indian backfield on consecutive plays to end the first drive.

On the second drive linebackers junior Jon Manley and senior Brian Miller sacked ASU quarterback Roy Johnson. The next play, a crucial third down, senior defensive back Scott Barber broke up a Johnson pass and freshman backfield mate Clint Smothers nearly broke the Indian receiver in half.

This set up the Salukis final drive. But then Wells took matters and the ball in its own hands and the Salukis were history.

"We should have won," Saluki head coach Bob Smith said. "ASU is a more talented team, but that's not an excuse. A team has to hope to win, then expect to win and then refuse to be defeated. Right now we expect to win. We have to become a team that refuses to lose."

Riggleman hires assistant from Oral Roberts College

By Jeff Bobo
Staff Writer

As a former pitching coach, Saluki head baseball coach Sam Riggleman was looking for an assistant with a strong hitting background. He thinks he found one in Ken Henderson.

Henderson, who takes over as the Saluki's assistant baseball coach today, handled hitting instructions while a assistant coach at Oral Roberts from 1986-89, as well as being recruiting coordinator and infield instructor.

"Ken offers the offensive expertise I was looking for, as well as a demonstrated competence in recruiting," Riggleman said.

For the past nine months, Henderson had been a head instructor at the Jim Brewer Baseball Academy in Tulsa, Okla.

"I am excited to be joining a program with a proud baseball tradition, and look forward to working with Sam Riggleman," Henderson said.

The Saluki assistant baseball coaching job had been open since Sept. 13 when Riggleman was promoted to head coach, replacing "Hard 'Itchy' Jones who took over as head coach at the University of Illinois.

Riggleman narrowed its search for a new assistant baseball coach to two candidates last Friday. Other than Henderson, the Salukis had considered Greg Williams, head coach of Behrend College of Penn State in Erie, Pa.

Saluki spikers stunned at Texas A&M Invite

By Julie Autor

The Saluki volleyball team brought home a third-place finish from the Texas A&M Invitational after failing to beat the host Aggies and New Orleans this weekend in College Station, Texas. The Salukis are now 7-8 overall.

The Salukis beat Northeast Louisiana University Saturday 14-16, 15-9, 15-6, 12-15 and 15-12. Sophomore Dana Olden and senior Amy Johnson combined to score 32 kills for the Salukis. The win marks the third straight time SIUC has beat NLU.

Freshman Wendy Garrett took the setter position for the first time and scored 35 kills, while freshman Stephanie Liester made four service aces and 15 digs against Northeast Louisiana.

Liester was the only Saluki to be named to the Invitational's All-Tournament team. It was the first time Liester received that honor.

The University of New Orleans swept the Salukis 15-10, 15-1 and 15-8. New Orleans had an overall hitting percentage of .406 while the Salukis faltered with a .160 percentage.

Texas A&M beat the Salukis for the seventh straight time with scores of 15-6, 15-8 and 16-14. The Aggies finished 3-0 to win their own invitational.

Saluki softball team shares first with Missouri after 17 innings

By Tiffany Yother
Staff Writer

The SIUC softball team ended its exhibition fall season Saturday tied for first place with the University of Missouri at the Saluki Invitational.

The team battled it out for 17 innings with the University of Missouri Friday. The result was a tie between the two when the game was ended on account of darkness.

The Salukis took a 1-0 record into the Mizzou game, after defeating Southeast Missouri 9-2 earlier in the day.

Saturday SIUC defeated Bradley 9-0, John A. Logan 10-0, and Meramec 10-2.

SIUC and Missouri finished with a tournament record of 4-0-1. Southeast Missouri placed second at 2-2-1. Bradley placed third at 2-3. Meramec placed fourth at 1-3-1 and John A. Logan placed fifth at

Saluki senior Lisa Robinson pitched 14 innings against Missouri before she was relieved by sophomore Angie Mick.

Saluki pitching coach Gary Buckles was impressed with the performance of the staff over the course of the tournament.

"I was really pleased with all of them," Buckles said. "I think I relieved in every game. They sure got plenty of work."

Saluki coach Kay Brechtelsbauer said the team's performance during the Saluki Invitational this weekend was a great way to end the fall season.

"I am really pleased with the tournament," Brechtelsbauer said. "It was a good way to finish the fall season. We finished on a positive note. It was a good confidence builder to prepare us for spring."

The Salukis will take the winter off before they begin their spring season in March.

Jeffrey, Edwards lead Salukis

By Julie Autor

The Saluki women's tennis team, led by senior Missy Jeffrey and junior Lori Edwards, faced tough competition at the Arkansas State Invitational this weekend.

Jeffrey was 4-0 coming out of the A-flight singles after defeating Jo Iddles of Western Kentucky University 6-1, 7-1.

Edwards defeated Amy Lalance of Western Kentucky 6-0, 6-1 and finished the weekend 3-1 in A-flight singles.

Tennis coach Judy Auld said she was impressed with the strong competition the team faced.

"The competition was better than I had anticipated," Auld said. "The teams had good solid players all the way through the lineup."

Saluki sophomore Karen Wasser landed in second place in B-flight singles after a loss to Western Kentucky's Amy Haskins 6-3, 6-1.

Senior Michele Toye and freshmen Anra Tsui and Wendy Andersen finished 1-1 for weekend play.

Auld said because of the strong competition, the team was pushed this weekend.

"I was glad the team was pushed," Auld said. "It was a good time to have the girls pushed by some good competition. It was something we needed at this time."

In doubles Jeffrey and Edwards and sophomore teammates Wendy Varnum and Lori Gallagher finished 1-1 for the weekend.

100,000 nationalists march for Ukrainian independence

KIEV, Ukraine, U.S.S.R. (UPI) — More than 100,000 Ukrainian nationalists marched through Kiev Sunday, demanding secession, independence for a non-communist Ukraine and support for a general strike on Monday. Older Ukrainians called the demonstration, organized by the Rukh nationalist movement and other groups, the largest in Kiev during the 72-year Soviet period. Many said the only precedents were rallies in 1905 during an abortive revolution against Czar Nicholas II. Witnesses reported seeing army troop concentrations outside Kiev.

Indian students plan to protest with suicide

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Two high-caste students from Shri Ram College of Commerce in New Delhi announced that they have decided to set themselves ablaze to protest the government's decision to reserve 27 percent of all federal jobs for the so-called backward classes. They were angry at Prime Minister V.P. Singh for implementing the 10-year-old job quota proposal, and they were discouraged about the prospect of having to say "yes sir" and "no sir" to someone of a lower caste. They said they could not live the lives of their parents.

U.S. Navy decommissions last diesel sub

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The United States is about to have the world's first submarine fleet completely powered by nuclear energy. The USS Blueback (SS-581), the last remaining U.S. Navy sub to run on conventional power, is to be decommissioned Monday with great ceremony and much affection at the San Diego Naval Station. The Blueback was used to impersonate a Soviet sub in the film "The Hunt for Red October." The Blueback's demise will close the age of conventional U.S. underwater warfare, an era that started in the Revolutionary War.

Illinois National Guard units leave for Gulf, come home

United Press International

Thousands lined an Illinois state route south of Paris Sunday to send off members of an Illinois National Guard unit expected to make its way to the Persian Gulf while Gov. James R. Thompson welcomed back members of a state Air National Guard unit that returned to Chicago. An estimated 5,000 people — waving flags, homemade signs and yellow ribbons — lined Illinois Route 1 south of Paris to send off a convoy of trucks and three charter buses containing the 136 members of the 1544th Transportation Company, "Stars and Stripes Forever" and "Over There" were among the tunes played by the Paris High School band.

Food stamp allotments rise with food prices

CHICAGO (UPI) — The first of October brings with it higher food stamp allotments for 1 million people in Illinois because food prices have risen. The typical family of three will see a $17 increase to $277 a month. Such families must have a gross income of no more than $1,114 or a net income of no more than $800 monthly to qualify for the program. Kustra said higher food prices are the reason the U.S. Department of Agriculture has raised food stamp allotments, the first increase since last October. The food stamp program serves over 1 million people in the United States.

USG Elections

Reform and United Parties fight for USG control

Reform Party promises to reform past policies on government secrecy

By Phyllis Coon
Staff Writer

Opening the operations of the student government and the administration when dealing with student concerns is a goal of the Reform Party's candidate for Undergraduate Student Government president.

"I see the USG as a $38,000 company that was run to the ground during the Hildebrandt administration," Michael Parker, presidential candidate, said. "He was so secretive and didn't let anyone except his closest officers know what was happening."

Tim Hildebrandt was last year's USG president for the Progress Party.

USG elections will be from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday. Voting will take place at the Student Center, Lentz Hall, Trueblood Hall, Grinnell Hall, the Technology Building and the Communications Building.

Parker accused Hildebrandt of being secretive on issues including the changing of parking spaces from overnight residential for Thompson Point to blue faculty spaces.

"There was no warning that was going to happen," Parker said. "Residents went from having the whole parking lot to just the first three rows to park in. He should have let students know this was happening."

At the top of the Reform Party's platform is the implementation of a fair method of running the USG.

"We want to serve everyone, not just a few," Parker said. "When decisions are made in secrecy they don't serve the more than 19 thousand undergraduates."

Michael Parker

Bob Michelson

Students have a right to question actions that are being taken on issues affecting them, he said. By publishing the names of people on boards students will be able to contact them and express opinions.

Plans include expanding the Landlord Tenant Union to help students find decent places to live and checks on landlords, he said.

"Bill and Susan Hall are the only people working in that office," Parker said. "They do a good job, but there is so much that needs to be done."

Parker who has been on the Student Legal Advisory Board since the fall of 1988 said 40 percent of the cases the board deals with are landlord tenant disputes.

"We need to reinvigorate that office," Parker said. "Putting student workers in there will really help."

Contacting the University of Illinois at Champaign to see how its union is run is a key to revamping the office, he said.

"The U of I is supposed to have a good landlord tenant union," Parker said. "We can see what we can implement from there. We are going to have to build this office from the ground up because it is virtually nonexistent."

Another goal of the party is an

See REFORM, Page 6

United Party candidate to strive for improved USG leadership in 1991

By Omondee O. Whitfield
Staff Writer

Improvement of USG officers' leadership skills is the primary concern of the United Party.

Brian Hawkins, United Party candidate for USG President, said if elected, the first contribution he would make would be the implementation of a leadership workshop for USG officers.

Hawkins will be running in this year's USG elections. Elections will be held from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Thursday at Lentz Hall, Trueblood Hall, Grinnell Hall, the Technology Building, the Student Center, and the Communications Building.

Hawkins is a senior in political science. Last year, he was active in USG serving as a member of the Student Welfare Committee.

"Our party's main concern is making available a leadership conference for all USG officers," Hawkins said.

"Perfecting leadership skills will result in a more efficiently run USG."

Hawkins said that in addition to implementing a leadership conference, he would also like to initiate changes in the allocation of USG funds.

Hawkins said, "I would like to see an increase in the guidelines for finance allocations. I would like for guidelines to be more stringent in some ways. Primarily, I would like for USG to distribute the money so that everyone (all Registered Student Organizations) will have a fair share."

United Party Vice President candidate

Brian Hawkins

Penny Felton

Penny Felton said that in addition to implementing leadership workshops, United Party would also like to establish a better rapport between USG and students and encourage more student participation in USG.

Felton, a sophomore in pre-business, said that USG could initiate on campus student participation by working with the hall councils at each dorm.

USG could encourage students who live off-campus to participate by distributing USG information at tables in the Student Center.

United Party also proposes to establish a USG Ombudsman.

Since her freshman year, Felton has served as both a USG senator and a member of the Finance board.

Hawkins and Felton agreed that United Party is comprised of a diversity of people, with different ethnic and racial backgrounds. United is comprised of 24 members—22 senators, a vice president and a president.

Hawkins said that the United Party chose its name because of the significance of the word "unity."

He said that the best type of government is one in which all of the leaders are unified.

Hawkins said "There may be a party that

Banned books week exposes censorship

BUTTONS DISTRIBUTED BY the American Library Association said it best: "I Read Banned Books."

Yes, last week was Banned Books Week.

Libraries and bookstores across the country celebrated the week by calling attention to our First Amendment rights that are under attack in some parts of the world.

Not to anyone's surprise, books such as "The Catcher in the Rye," and "Huckleberry Finn" made the "prestigious" banned book list.

THE BIG SHOCKER THIS year that made the list was the pornographic 1986 edition of Webster's Dictionary.

Parents in New Jersey objected to the dictionary's explicit, graphic explanation of sexual intercourse that defined it as "the sexual joining of two individuals."

Even Dr. Suess couldn't hide from the chilling effects of censorship this year when his book, "The Lorax," was banned for its "unfair" portrayal of the logging industry.

"THE LORAX" IS AN intelligent children's book with a deep environmental message.

Given the deteriorating state of our planet, we need to inform our children at a young age about recycling and preserving.

Unfortunately, some children may not get to learn about environmental awareness because school teachers in California saw fit to censor this book.

THE SAD PART ABOUT banning these books is that they are important, not pornographic, and deserve to be read.

We don't need to censor ideas, but rather pose competing ideas and let those reading the material decide for themselves.

History honor society wins national awards

DECIDING TO ENTER a national competition for the first time was the best decision SIUC Phi Alpha Theta, the history honor society, could make.

Especially since the chapter came away with two national awards.

The SIUC chapter competed with 75 chapters across the country in the Best National Chapter Contest.

The fact that there were so many competitors makes the awards very significant.

The SIUC chapter received a divisional honor award and also won one of four Special Commendation Awards, given to each division's most active chapters.

BUT PHI ALPHA THETA does not stress only activity. It is important for organizations to stress academics along with activities and Phi Alpha Theta does just that.

A student must maintain 3.0 grade point average in history studies in order to belong.

The organization not only emphasizes activity and academics by organizing field trips and social events, but it is a good example that by working together members can accomplish goals.

Academics second to athletics

The article that was printed in the DE on Sept. 19 about black male athletes, in my opinion, proved only one thing.

SIUC is not providing for its black students what it is for its white students.

It is not providing a proper education and a proper learning environment.

The article misleads us to believe that the lack of graduating black athletes and the low grade point averages are solely the fault of the black athletes.

This is not the case.

The blame for this problem also belongs to the athletic department as well as the administration.

If the black athletes are solely at fault for this problem, and they only have the athletic department to rely on to solve these problems, then the black athletes are definitely in trouble.

If the athletic department hasn't come up with a viable solution by now, then they never will.

If an athlete is not making satisfactory progress towards graduation, then why are these athletes being allowed to continue to compete in athletics?

It is because the coaches, the athletic department and the administration will allow these black athletes to fail out of SIUC before they will allow their athletic programs to fail.

Many black athletes are on scholarships and need the money in order to come to college.

Therefore, in order to keep the scholarships, the athletes will allow the athletics to become more important than their academic priorities.

It is all basic politics. The athletic programs need these black athletes to keep their teams somewhat successful.

Therefore, they will do anything to keep them on the playing fields. Even if grades are unsatisfactory.

I was on the track team for three years, before being dismissed for reasons beyond my recognition.

I believe it was because I confronted the coach about his blatant and outright disrespect for his Black athletes.

In my first year on the team, I seldom attended the mandatory athletic study table.

My absences were seldom questioned by the coach. I competed for the whole year.

The athletic study hall program is a joke.

When I did attend, very few of the athletes who were there did any serious studying, except the white female athletes who have the highest grade point averages.

In the long run, the only people who will be hurt by this problem are the black athletes.

The administration and athletic department must study this problem for themselves and then decide if they are going to continue to let black athletes remain in the situation they are in, or if they are going to do something to stop it.—B. Steele, senior, business administration.

Students should listen to protest group

This letter serves as a response to a letter published in the DE Sept. 25 concerning a recent protest of FBI recruiting at Career Day.

When members of Mid-America Peace Project protested the presence of the FBI recruiting on campus at Career Day, it sparked a range of reactions, some supportive, some not so supportive.

Some described the action as "an embarrassment and an insult." What I find embarrassing and insulting is that at a fine institution of higher learning such as SIUC, the FBI is allowed to operate and recruit on campus.

The FBI is not simply an intelligence gathering and investigative organization. The bureau has engaged in activities that continue to undermine this country.

Protesters were motivated by moral obligation. Speaking to people and reading information from the past 30 years reveals a pattern of institutional racism, blatant disregard for constitutional rights and oppression of people working for a better life.

From the black liberation movement and the American Indian movement, to the anti-war movements of the 60s and 80s the FBI was there, intimidating people and chilling the atmosphere for free speech.

The list of FBI violations and groups oppressed by the FBI is too long to detail here. But MAPP, along with other organizations, will work to educate the people on the FBI as well as the CIA.

Two students ridiculed protesters because "you are out to save the world." They stated, "speak for yourselves, you don't represent the student body at SIUC." Who is trying to represent the student body here?

MAPP is a peace oriented organization taking direct action for justice and equality. We actively oppose racism, sexism, military aggression and destruction of the environment.

It is insulting to the people of this University when someone claims that 99 percent of the student body couldn't stand to listen to these issues be addressed.—Brad J. Hendershott, junior, cinematography.

Reform Party opposes keg ordinance

Congratulations to the undergraduate student body for opposing the keg ordinance proposed by the Carbondale City Council.

This resistance has forced the council to take a closer look at the ordinance, this time with the Undergraduate Student Government's involvement.

The Reform Party praises the students for active approach on this issue and encourages further involvement until the ordinance is a dead issue.

SIUC will never again know Halloween as it once was. The Springfest regulations are changing from year to year.

Therefore, the importance of the keg ordinance is the student body's right to have their voices count in the community.

The Reform Party opposes the ordinance and supports USG in their effort in defeating this bill.

Nothing but complete dismissal of the ordinance can be tolerated.

We also understand the difficulty it takes a few individuals to tackle an issue such as this one. The USG needs your support.

If anyone has an idea that may help in defeating this issue, please let your friends be known.

Any help that is given, is given for the benefit of the SIUC undergraduate student body.—Brian Spinner, junior in English.

Octoberfest, he said.

"This issue is really important to me," Parker said. "I don't like how Halloween was handled. I will concede to Guyon and Hildebrandt that it may have gotten out of hand."

While collecting signatures to get the party on the USG ballot Parker said he talked to 195 students about Halloween. Only two wanted a fall break.

"Everyone I talked to had reservations about riots and throwing cans, but the administration saying outright that we can't do this is treating us like kids," Parker said.

Also on the platform is the start of more integrated campus activities for non-traditional students, veterans, international students, African American students and activist student groups, he said.

"I've noticed all the ethnical diversity at the University and it's not represented in activities," Parker said.

The party's platform also includes:

- Support of a Mass Transit Initiative and implementing a Shuttle Stop System to utilize distant parking spaces;
- A Students' Guide to SIU to help explain such as "How, What to Do, and Who to See for a Student Loan" and for International students, "How to Get a Driver's License and Car Insurance";

- Work with administration and University Housing to bring cable to the dorms;
- Work with administration to develop "Sister School Relationships" with universities in Israeli-occupied territories,

Northern Ireland and a black university in South Africa;

- A Styrofoam ban in the Student Center;
- A book co-op to reduce the price textbooks and maximize the returns on textbooks;
- Reduction of tuition and fees for International Students;
- Work with Carbondale and SIUC administrators to find solutions to student issues.

is for the students, but if the party is not united, then it is not effective. There may be a party that is 'reformed', but if it is not united, it is not effective."

Campus safety is also an issue of interest to the United Party.

United proposes to provide 24-hour Date Rape hotline services, and extend the operation hours of the Women Safety Transit Services until 2:00 am.

"There may be a party that is for the students, but if the party is not united, then it is not effective. There may be a party that is 'reformed', but if it is not united, it is not effective."

— Brian Hawkins

Additional platform issues include:

- A Campus Watch Program to enhance safety.

- Reviving the Halloween festivities on campus.
- Supporting the tuition freeze.
- Increasing lighting in several areas around campus.

- Improving USG's communication with the student body through the publication of a USG bi-weekly newsletter.

- Helping students gain more control over Student Center affairs by establishing a USG committee to investigate students' concerns about the Student Center.
- Making the parking spaces at the Arena available Monday through Friday from 8:00 am until 4:00 pm.

Eleven-year-old boy tests high school waters

MANTENO, Ill. (UPI) — For someone who began reading the newspaper at 18 months, 11-year-old Loren J. Wilson II has made the adjustment to high school with little fanfare.

Loren, a seventh grader at Manteno Junior High School, now is taking English, algebra and computer science at Manteno High School.

School officials say he has made the adjustment with ease.

"I'm adjusting pretty good," Loren said during a recent interview. "I'm having no problems in the classroom and most of the other kids are treating me fine. Some of the kids are a little off. I mean, I think some of them are a little jealous because I'm in high school at such a young age."

Loren has been performing amazing feats for a long time. His parents, Loren and Kathy, said they knew he was a special child from early on.

Loren is in the top 1 percent of Illinois' nearly 2 million students from kindergarten through grade 12.

"This is a highly gifted student," said Wilma Lund, a consultant with the state's gifted education program.

Because of his intelligence — he was operating the phonograph at 3 and speed-reading a 4 — his mother enrolled him in special schools.

Loren attended Matteson's Raygor Day School at age 3 and read at a third or fourth grade level, according to school Director Georgiana Raygor.

Since then he has been a member of the National Gifted Association.

Loren entered kindergarten at age 4 and has since attended private and public schools.

"We've tried to put Loren and his sister in the best environment anywhere we lived," Kathy said.

If Loren adjusts to his new courses, he could graduate from Manteno High School at age 14, school officials said.

Loren, however, who wants to be "some kind of a lawyer," is not making any predictions about his future. He's too busy with his latest challenges.

Russian students cultivate experience in suburbia visit

LAKE FOREST (UPI) — Russian students attending School No. 8 in Vilnius, Lithuania, know well what it's like to be a minority since Russians make up just a fraction of that country's population.

A group of 15 students and three teachers arrived in the wealthy Chicago suburb Sunday to begin a weeklong trek — physical and mental — intended to give them a taste of the richest and the poorest people and things this area has to offer.

Some of the students will be staying in the homes of some of North Shore students who do not board at Lake Forest Academy, said Jackson Scruton, a spokesman for the private school.

"The opulence should be a real shocker. Some of them (the exchange students) probably have three shirts and two pairs of pants," he said.

Scruton says the private high school founded in 1857 — "for the Midwest a very ancient institution" — with about 300 students from 12 states and 15 foreign countries is going to great lengths to make certain the visitors are exposed to the area's variety, including Chicago school students in several panels.

The visit by the Russians, who make up just 8 percent of the population of Lithuania, is to culminate with a panel late in the week on the subject of living with ethnic diversity.

Organizations offer campus voter registration

By Leslie Colp
Staff Writer

Registering to vote just got easier for SIUC students.

Undergraduate Student Government, with help from other organizations, have set up tables around campus to register students to vote in the Nov. 6 election.

Members from USG, the Graduate and Professional Student Council, the Black Affairs Council and the College Republicans and College Democrats will be at the south end of the Student Center 11:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday this week to assist in registration.

Police Blotter

A Carbondale man was arrested and charged with unlawful use of a weapon by a felon after he was stopped as a suspect in a Jackson County burglary.

Thomas C. Hiller, 32, 86 Carbondale Mobile Homes, was arrested Thursday evening at 109 N. Washington St.

He was found with a concealed weapon in his possession, Carbondale police said.

Hiller was taken to Jackson County Jail.

An auto burglary occurred at 406 E. Hester between 1 a.m. and 7 a.m. Saturday, Carbondale Police said.

James Foster, 24, told police his car, which was parked at his residence, was entered and a stereo and a box of cassette tapes was stolen, police said.

The loss was estimated at $600.

SIU ARENA LINE RESERVATION CARD SYSTEM

An opinion poll was conducted to find a fair and reasonable solution to alleviate the problem of people "camping out" for tickets prior to the first day of sales. A line reservation card system was concluded to be the best solution. A description of the system follows:

1. Line reservation cards are handed out on the first day of sales, at an advertised time, at the Arena South Lobby Box Office.
2. Cards are drawn RANDOMLY by Arena staff; one card per person.
3. Upon conclusion of line card distribution, persons are responsible for obtaining their position in line prior to commencement of actual ticket sales.
4. Persons not in line or who arrive after cards have been distributed will be placed at the end of the line.
5. Lines are formed immediately upon conclusion of card distribution.
6. Ticket sales begin immediately after lines have been formed.

REMEMBER...

Cards are drawn randomly. Being first in line for a reservation card will not assure you of being first in line for a ticket!

Tailgating

A Staff Report

Thanks to Hank Williams Jr., some red paint and a bunch of chickens, eight SIUC students are going on a cruise to the Bahamas.

Members of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity won a trip for eight to the Bahamas after performing a trio of Bocephus tunes Saturday in their "Throw Down at the Hoe Down" skit.

The skit was performed in competition at the All-Greek musical-comedy show at the Great Saluki Tailgate before Saturday's football game at McAndrew Stadium.

Kristen Straughan, senior in communications disorders and a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, choreographed and co-wrote the skit. She said four Pi Kappa Alpha men and four Alpha Gamma women will get to enjoy the all-expense-paid cruise to the Bahamas, but that neither her sorority nor the fraternity has chosen who will go.

"Last year's grand prize was a trip to a Cardinals baseball game for eight, so they sort of upgraded it this year," Straughan said.

Straughan said the two Greek houses have been rehearsing their country music skit — complete with cowboy boots and live poultry — for the past three weeks and for at least two or three hours every night for the past week.

Straughan gave much of the credit for the group's success to the Pi Kappa Alpha men, who constructed the 28-foot-tall barn backdrop and even painted it red.

"The Pikes really did a great job with it," Straughan said.

Neisha Livengood, a graduate student in biology from St. Louis, and Pete Linsner, a senior in outdoor recreation, chat at the chili cook-off at the Great Saluki Tailgate Saturday.

KISS rocks SIUC Arena with heavy metal songs

By Eric Reyes
Staff Writer

A Concert Review

You know its going to be an energetic concert when the guitarists are wearing high tops.

KISS, touring behind "Hot in the Shade," its 21st gold album, blew away a near sell-out crowd at the Arena Friday night.

They presented the audience with a high-tech light and laser show and an "if it's too loud, you're too old" attitude.

The leather clad quartet reached into its bag of classic KISS songs from the '70s and '80s and surely pleased the fist-waving masses.

Deafening the crowd with such favorites as "Detroit Rock City," "Cold Gin," "Heaven on Fire," and "Love Gun," Gene Simmons, Paul Stanley, Eric Carr and Bruce Kulick proved why KISS has been a mainstay on the concert scene for 17 years.

Performing for a full two hours, the show was highlighted by Carr's booming drum solo.

In addition, KISS played several classic tunes that were as old, if not older, than a few of the audience members.

Most of these songs, like "Strutter" and "Black Diamond," were made popular on the album "KISS Alive" (1975).

KISS even pulled a surprise by giving a more contemporary rock edge to the '70s disco hit "I Was Made for Loving You." The song hasn't been performed live in concert for nine years.

KISS, which has always been known for its above-and-beyond stage shows, may have outdone itself with a 20-foot tall sphinx head with laser eyes as a backdrop.

The prop stems from the cover of the "Hot in the Shade" LP, a sphinx head with sunglasses.

The band did resort to the typical hard rock attitude toward pop music to evoke some crowd reaction.

Vocalist and guitarist Paul Stanley held up a shirt he grabbed from the audience that said "New Kids Suck" in bold neon letters.

The show closed with the rock anthem "Rock and Roll All Nite" that rocketed the original KISS foursome to fame in 1975.

Vixen, the all female heavy metal band, opened the show followed by Winger.

All three bands combined logged a total of more than four hours of stage antics Friday.

Vixen and Winger did well in warming up the audience for KISS' explosive show.

Although Kip Winger was in the spotlight for most of Winger's set, guitarist Reb Beach awed the crowd with his guitar wizardry unmatched by any other guitarist who took the stage that night.

Family Weekend 1990 changes old traditions

By Rennie Walker
Staff Writer

The long-kept tradition of Parents Weekend is being violated this Saturday. What has come to be the main event isn't going to happen.

"It's a shame that we don't have a football game, but it means a chance for families to see something that is really beautiful," said Chad Rollins, chairperson of the Family Weekend committee.

"They will have time to enjoy campus and Southern Illinois and really soak it in."

Although Richard Lewis, the star of ABC's "Anything but Love," is coming to Shrock Auditorium Saturday night, Rollins is more excited about the other events scheduled for this weekend.

The family picnic on Saturday, ironically, will be held in Old Main Mall, just north of an empty McAndrew Stadium.

"We wanted a real family atmosphere and that is why we chose to have a picnic," Rollins said. "It's so pretty out in Old Main Mall and the leaves will be changing."

So rather than Saluki spirit, Rollins hopes that in the air there will be a spirit of family.

There are other changes that separate this Family Weekend from those in the past. For one thing, it traditionally has been called "Parents Weekend."

The name change came about after the committee realized that 25 percent of SIUC students are non-traditional, which means the student population is more than just teenagers fresh from high school. Many students are also wives, husbands, mothers or fathers.

"It wasn't fair to call it parents weekend because we excluded a lot of students that we should have included," Rollins said. "We wanted this weekend to be for all students, so we needed that change."

The committee is going beyond merely changing the name in meeting special needs of non-traditional students.

"What we really wanted to do that hasn't been done much in the past is cater to the children," Rollins said.

Carbondale Arts in Celebration 90, a festival with booths featuring the works of local artists, will take place throughout the weekend at Evergreen Park. Workshops for children are scheduled.

"The non-traditional students have children and they want things for them to do, but it's never been done before," Rollins said.

Rollins said that anywhere from 300 to 700 families came to Family Weekend every year. He hopes that catering to non-traditional students will mean more local families will attend the event than in years past.

Brochures about Family Weekend were sent to 18,000 students.

Thirty-three-year-old gorilla dies at zoo of hemorrhage

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — A preliminary necropsy indicates Bongo, the patriarch of the Columbus Zoo's gorilla family, died of a cardio-pulmonary hemorrhage.

Bongo, who had four offspring and 14 grandchildren, was found dead in his night quarters early Friday.

He was 33 years old, nearly 32 years to the day he arrived in America.

The gorilla had arrived in the United States from Youanda in French Equatorial Africa (now Cameroon) Sept. 27, 1958, and reached Columbus Oct. 1, 1958.

For 26 years, Bongo was paired with Cole, the world's first captive-born gorilla, siring three offspring by her, including Oscar and Toni who survive at the zoo.

In 1986, Bongo became the oldest breeding male in captivity when he sired a male infant, Fossey, who became the zoo's first mother-reared gorilla.

When the mother, Bridgette, died 14 months later, Bongo assumed all parenting duties, rearing the youngster alone for a year.

An Indian player that refused to lose was Johnson. He did not start the game because of a cut throwing hand. ASU started freshman Jack Dollarhide. Dollarhide moved the Indian offense well, but lacked Johnson's throwing ability. With SIUC up 3-0, Dollarhide was yanked in favor of Johnson, who immediately made an impact.

On his second play, Johnson threw a 43-yard bomb to receiver Carlos Sharp. But on the next play Johnson fumbled. He led the ASU option attack with his strong fakes and running ability.

"When it comes in," Smith said, "he forces you to play up tempo. We actually did better defensively after he came in."

The Saluki defense looked helpless at times against the tailback pitch play of ASU. The Indians rolled up 322 rushing yards, but only two touchdowns. Halfback Jerome Caloway opened the ASU scoring with a 40-yard tip-toe down the sideline. The first half ended 7-3. ASU halfback added a second-half six-yard run, for the Indians second score.

The Saluki offense fare: no better against the Indian defense, with turnovers and penalties stopping numerous Saluki drives. Three times in the first half, the Salukis were inside the ASU 20-yard line, but could come up with only three points.

"It was bad execution," said sophomore receiver Johnny Roots, who caught four passes for 109 yards. "The offense wasn't clicking. Their blitzes bothered Brian (Downey) and it threw the whole rhythm of the offense off. Our own mistakes did it to us."

One thing that was clicking for the Saluki offense was Downey to junior receiver Ian Oliver. Oliver caught six passes for 81 yards, including a first quarter bomb that was a bit under thrown. Oliver adjusted and came back to the hili for a 33-yard pickup. But despite the big day, Oliver said he would trade it for a win.

"We made too many mistakes," Oliver said. "I had a good day, but it doesn't feel that good. I'd rather have the win than all those catches. We just didn't put it in when we needed to."

The Salukis next contest is Saturday against Southwest Missouri State, whose offense and quarterback D'Andre Smith are similar to Arkansas State's.

"We can't forget a loss like this completely," Kilgallon said. "We've got a chance to redeem ourselves next week. It's hard to say good things when you lose."

Both candidates have strong hitting backgrounds, which was a major prerequisite for the SIUC job, but Henderson's credentials made him more suited for the job.

"All sources proved his credentials to be impeccable," Riggelman said. "He is certainly a man who can help us continue to add to the fine tradition of Saluki baseball."

Henderson comes from an Oral Roberts team that had enjoyed two consecutive successful seasons.

In 1988, Henderson helped lead Oral Roberts to a 48-19 record and a trip to the NCAA West I Regionals.

The Titans finished 36-18 on the season and were ranked in the Top 20 most of 1989 before an administration decision to withdraw them from the NCAA caused an early end to the season.

Henderson joins a Saluki baseball team that is coming off a 49-14 season, finishing nationally-ranked 14th by ESPN/Collegiate Baseball.

"Hopefully the program will continue to prosper, as I can open up some new recruiting areas that should be productive," Henderson said.

Riggelman and Henderson will split recruiting duties. Henderson's 1989 recruiting class at Oral Roberts was ranked among the nation's elite by "Collegiate Baseball."

"With Henderson we will be able to enter prime baseball recruiting areas that have been untouchable in the past," Riggelman said.

Before his stint at Oral Roberts, Henderson, a native of Venita, Okla., was the assistant coach at Kansas State University from 1984-86. With Henderson as the hitting coach in 1985, Kansas State broke 17 school offensive records, including most home runs, hits, stolen bases and doubles.

With Henderson coaching Saluki hitters and Riggelman handling a pitching staff that boasted a 3.72 earned run average last year, the best at SIUC since 1979, the baseball team should have all the bases covered for the upcoming season.

Henderson played college baseball at Missouri Southern, one of the top NAIA programs in the country. He also coached there after graduation before beginning his six years at Kansas State and Oral Roberts.

SIUC, SEMO take victories at Country Fair Invite

SIUC men's team takes first place at Invitational

By Tiffany Youther
Staff Writer

The SIUC men's cross country team was pleasantly surprised by its home victory over seven teams at the Country Fair Invitational Saturday.

"I didn't think we could pull it off without (junior) Mark Stuart," Saluki coach Bill Cornett said. "Very honestly coming up on the finish line there I thought we were beat. I really thought Illinois State had them packed in there too tight for us. But the team ran well and I'm sure they're feeling good about themselves today."

SIUC defeated Illinois State by two points, 61-63. Other teams in the field finished in the order of Southeast Missouri, Southwest Missouri, Indiana State, Memphis State, Murray State and Belmont College.

Junior Vaughan Harry was the first SIUC runner to cross the finish line. His time of 25:06 earned him sixth place overall. Right behind him was junior Nick Schwartz (25:07) in seventh place.

Following were Mike Kershaw (25:19) in ninth place, sophomore Gerald Owen (25:28) in 11th, junior Mike Danner (26:13) in 28th, junior Evan Taylor (26:40.8) in 38th, sophomore Bernard Henry (26:44) in 40th and sophomore Scott Jonsson (27:12) in 47th.

Junior Saluki runner Vaughan Harry crosses the finish line in sixth place with junior teammate Nick Schwartz following close behind at the Country Fair Invitational Saturday.

fifth man and he came through and ran the race of his life in there today.

"Illinois State had two men in front of our first man but we managed to group well enough to beat them by two points."

SIUC and Illinois State were without their top runners, Stuart (SIUC) and junior David Wilson (ISU), due to injuries. After the race Stuart said he thought his team was doing fine without him.

"I felt it was a real good show by the team," Stuart commented. "The team's good enough to be

I can without running and I hope I'm able to do my part at the conference championships."

SIUC's victory at the Country Fair Invitational is its second win after only three meets this season. Cornett is confident the team will perform well at the Missouri Valley Conference championships Oct. 27.

"This gives them added confidence that when we get Mark back and Illinois State gets Wilson back we can go in there knowing we still have a shot at winning the conference championships," Cornett said.

Saluki women's cross country team falls to second place behind SEMO

By Tiffany Youther
Staff Writer

SIUC women's cross country coach Don DeNoon said Southeast Missouri "came in and showed us what it was all about" at the Country Fair Invitational Saturday.

The Salukis finished in second place overall behind SEMO, defeating Indiana State, Western Illinois, Murray State, Memphis State and Belmont College.

"I was disappointed in the respect that I thought we could be more competitive with all the teams," DeNoon said. "I was pleased in the respect that we had three athletes in the top 10. I thought the upper echelon of girls was going to be really heavy with good talent up there and it ended up to be just that."

Saluki sophomore Lecann Conway finished in fifth place overall with a time of 18:16. Conway was looking for her third win of the 1990 season.

Following Conway's lead were sophomore Dawn Barefoot (18:39) in ninth place, junior Annie Padgett (18:42) in 10th, freshman Kelly Elliot (19:23) in 19th, junior Tracy Guerin (19:59) in 23rd, sophomore Shaurae Winfield (20:11) in 26th, sophomore Christina Gabler (20:21) in 28th, freshman Stephanie Shelley (20:37) in 30th, freshman Karri Gardner (20:43) in 32nd, freshman Karen Gardner (21:02) in 38th, sophomore Laura Batsie (21:14) in 40th and sophomore Liz Davidson (21:17) in 42nd. There was a total of 53 finishers in the race.

Southeast Missouri cross country coach Bill Gautier said he was elated after his team won its second meet of the season.

"I can't think of a superlative that tells how completely happy I am," Gautier said. "All the girls ran incredibly. Lucie Mays is from Mount Vernon so it was quite a homecoming."

"Our whole team was fired up. Our kids knew how bad I wanted to win this meet. We've quite a rivalry with SIUC."

DeNoon said his main concern is preparation for the Gateway Conference championships Oct. 27.
